

Do you have general questions about genetics and your health? The Genetic Support Foundation is here to help. We post answers to frequently asked questions on a regular basis HERE. Although we do not offer direct medical advice and you should always talk with your doctor, we do address common questions that arise regarding genetics and genetic testing. Please fill out this form and we will do our best to help!

[gravityform id=2 title=false description=false]